Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Lawrence Robert Fuller began his Sioux Falls Argus Leader career in 1977, and by 1978 he was the publisher of the state's largest newspaper; and,

WHEREAS, Larry Fuller's leadership at the Argus Leader has earned the paper the General Excellence Award of the South Dakota Press Association every year since Larry became publisher, and he led the Argus newsroom and advertising departments to over one hundred excellence awards during his tenure; and,

WHEREAS, In addition to his constant fretting over the Argus's quality, Larry has managed to devote his time and energy to the betterment of Sioux Falls and the larger community of South Dakota through his efforts on behalf of the Sioux Falls United Way, Sioux Falls YMCA, Downtown Development Corporation, Childrens Inn, the Zoological Society, and the Convention Visitors Bureau; and,

WHEREAS, Larry has also lent his "character" to such enterprises as the Sioux Falls Argus O'Leader, the annual St. Patrick's Day Parade, "hunting" for the perfect chocolate chip cookie and "catching" pheasants. In his "spare" time, Larry pursues excellence in running, though his abilities will never threaten the courageous Gabriele Andersen; and,

WHEREAS, Larry Fuller's memos have garnered the attention of the powers that be in the Gannett Corporation, and he and his wife Suzanne, their daughter Beth and their son Michael will be leaving Sioux Falls for Washington, D. C., and Larry's friends and colleagues will gather on Friday, August 10, to bid him a fond farewell:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim August 10, 1984, as in South Dakota, and I join all of South Dakota in applauding him for the level of service he bestowed upon our state in his every endeavor and in wishing him a happy and rewarding tenure in Washington. Good luck and Godspeed to a true friend of all South Dakotans.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Ninth Day of August, In the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Four
